OVERVIEW

What this project is about, who it is with, and how the four months were planned.

PROJECT PROPOSAL

PROJECT TIMELINE

PROJECT OVERVIEW

A UX case study, from understanding the problem to choosing a solution direction.

INDUSTRY PARTNER

BLUORNG, NEW DELHI

Premium Indian streetwear label, founded 2020. Drop-led, Instagram-first, runs Meta ads for every drop.

MY ROLE

UX DESIGNER, EMBEDDED

I work alongside BLUORNG's content and marketing team, so I could observe the content process first-hand.

DURATION

4 MONTHS

Research, synthesis, ideation and design, ending in a tested prototype.

BACKGROUND

BLUORNG builds hype for every drop through Instagram content and Meta ads. Each drop needs fresh posts, a shoot, ad creatives and ad budget. The team decides what to make mostly on experience and instinct, and results are spread across different tools.

PROJECT AIM

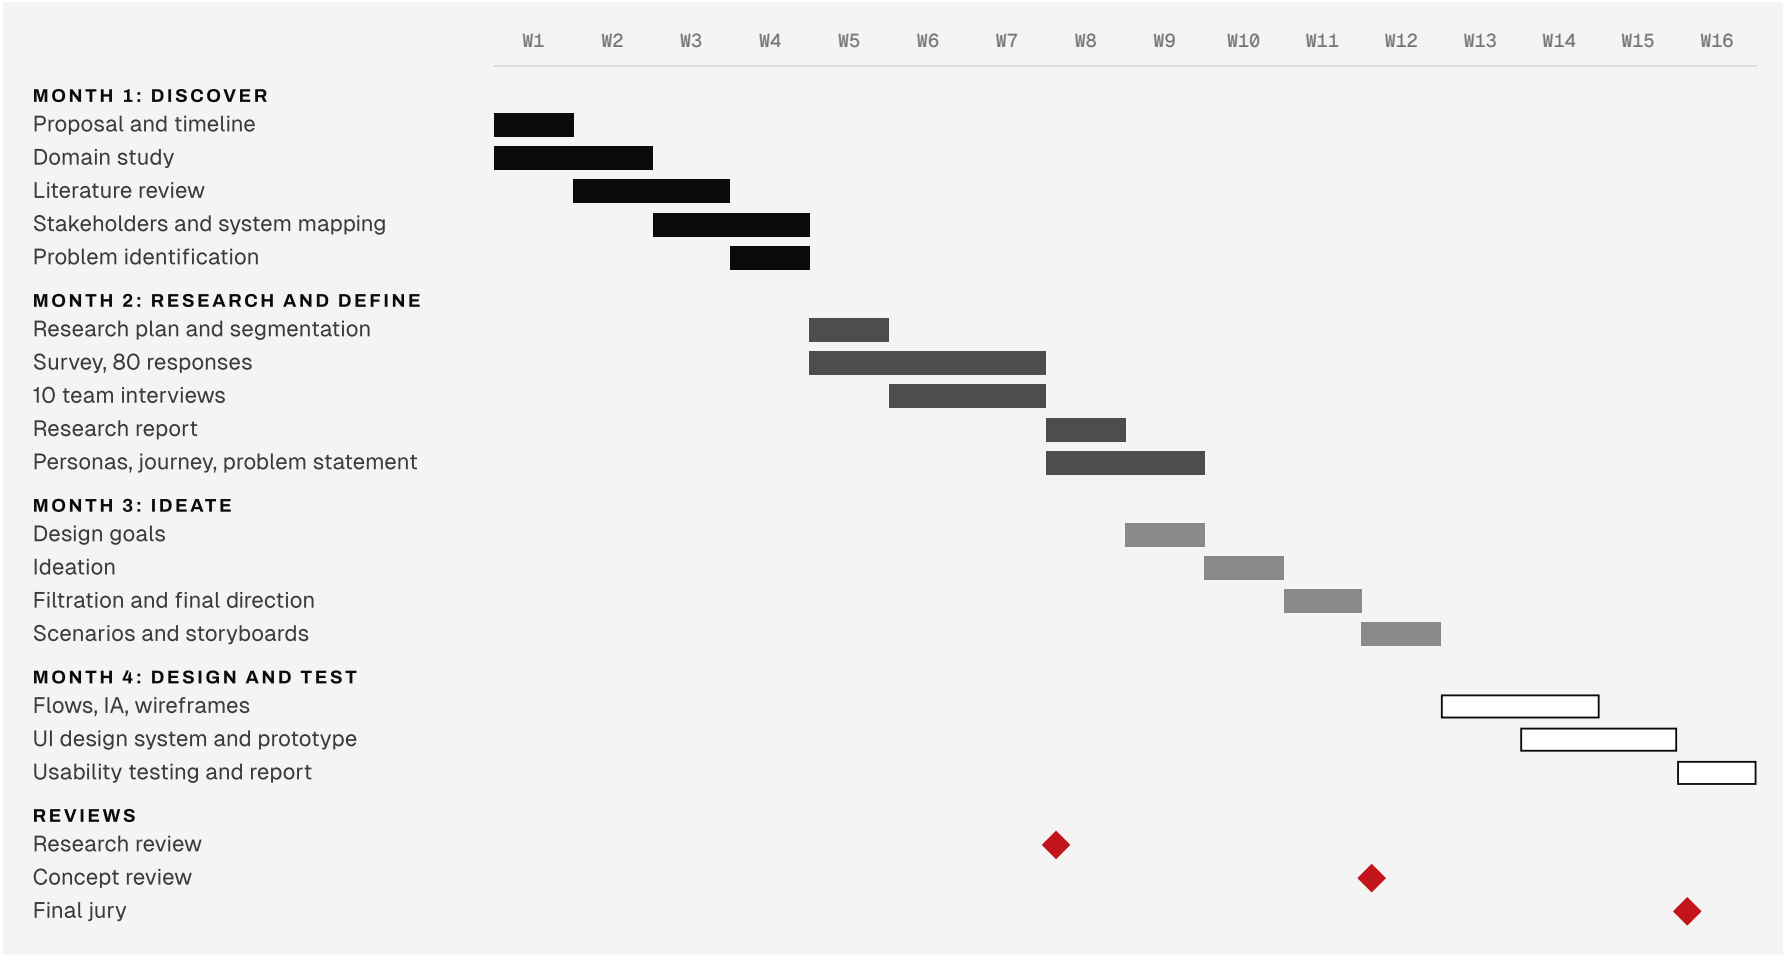

Understand how BLUORNG's marketing and content team decides what to create for organic social media and Meta ads, find where time and money are lost, and design a solution that helps the team make better content decisions.

DOMAIN STUDY | LITERATURE REVIEW | STAKEHOLDERS | SYSTEM MAPPING | PROBLEM MAPPING | SURVEY, 80 PEOPLE | 10 TEAM INTERVIEWS | PERSONAS | JOURNEY MAP | IDEATION | FILTRATION | SCENARIOS | STORYBOARDS

TAKEAWAY The project starts with a question, not a solution: how does BLUORNG decide what content to make?

FOUR MONTHS, SIXTEEN WEEKS

Month by month: discover, research and define, ideate, then design and test.

TAKEAWAY This document follows all four months, from the proposal to the usability test report.

PHASE 01

01 DISCOVER

Understanding the brand, the content-creation domain, what others have written, and who is involved.

DOMAIN STUDY | LITERATURE REVIEW | STAKEHOLDERS MAP | SYSTEM MAPPING | PROBLEM IDENTIFICATION

BLUORNG AT A GLANCE

A young, fast-growing label whose growth depends on how good its content is.

2020
Founded in New Delhi by Siddhant Sabharwal and Mokam Singh. Appointment-only studio.

NEXT
Flagship store in Gurugram.

2023
GQ India Streetwear Label of the Year.

2024
Jägermeister collaboration.

COLLAB
Budweiser jersey collection.

2026
Larger Mumbai store reopens.

POSITIONING

PREMIUM STREETWEAR

Design-led, bold visuals, global aesthetic with local sensibility.

BUSINESS MODEL

DROP-LED

Limited releases, sell-outs and collaborations create urgency.

GROWTH ENGINE

INSTAGRAM FIRST

Discovery and hype on Instagram, conversion through Meta ads.

PRICE BAND

PREMIUM

Tees in the few-thousand-rupee range, outerwear far higher.

TAKEAWAY For BLUORNG, content is not marketing on the side. It is how the brand is discovered and sold.

HOW BLUORNG USES CONTENT TODAY

Every drop runs the same cycle, and every step costs time or money.

ORGANIC INSTAGRAM

HYPE AND COMMUNITY

Drop teasers, lookbooks and campaign films, behind the scenes, store launches, collabs and culture posts. Builds desire and recall.

REELS | CAROUSELS | STORIES | COLLAB POSTS

META ADS

CONVERSION AND FOOTFALL

Ads for every drop, retargeting of site visitors, store footfall and evergreen products. Every ad needs creative from a shoot, plus spend.

DROP ADS | RETARGETING | STORE FOOTFALL | EVERGREEN

ONE DROP, AS A CONTENT CYCLE

1 Collection ready → 2 Content planning meeting → 3 Shoot day → 4 Edits and versions → 5 Posts go live → 6 Meta ads run → 7 Results checked

TAKEAWAY The shoot day and the Meta ad budget are the two biggest costs in each cycle.

THE CONTENT-CREATION DOMAIN

Two kinds of content, one production pipeline.

ORGANIC CONTENT

EARNED REACH

Free to post, reach decided by the algorithm: watch time, saves and shares. The first 3 to 4 seconds decide if people stay.

PAID CONTENT

BOUGHT REACH

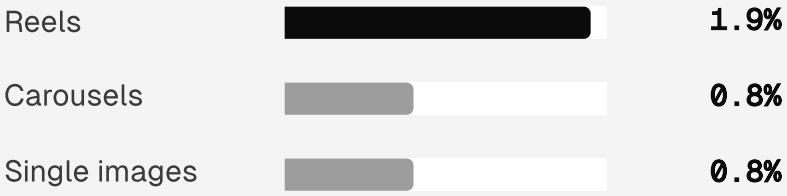

Meta ads place content in front of chosen audiences. Meta's own guidance says the creative is now the main lever, because targeting is automated.

PRODUCTION

THE HIDDEN COST

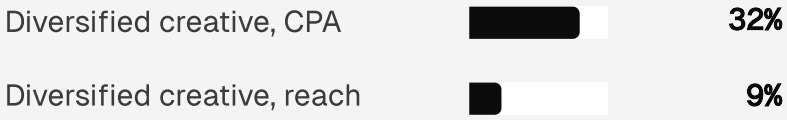

Concept, shoot, edit and resize for 9:16, 4:5 and 1:1. A shoot day is planned once and must feed both organic and ads.

ENGAGEMENT BY FORMAT, FASHION BRANDS

DASH SOCIAL VIA NETINFLUENCER

WHAT MAKES PAID CONTENT WORK

A MARKET GROWING ON INSTAGRAM

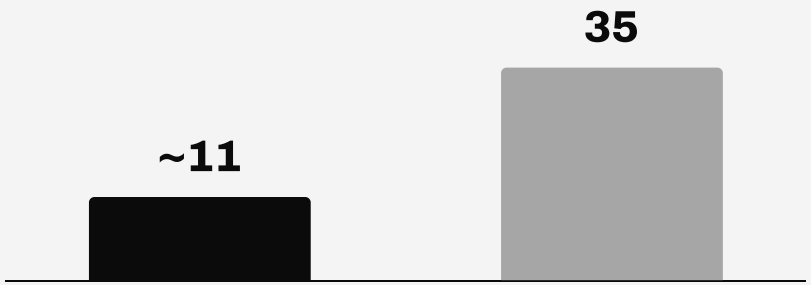

The space is crowded and growing, and the competition happens in the feed.

INDIA STREETWEAR MARKET, USD BN

ONLINE FASHION IN INDIA, USD BN

ENTREPRENEUR INDIA

WHAT THIS MEANS

More Indian streetwear labels compete for the same Instagram feed, so content quality and ad efficiency decide who wins.

PREMIUM STREETWEAR PEERS

JAYWALKING · ALMOST GODS · HUEMN · CAPSUL · URBAN MONKEY · BONKERS CORNER · FEAR OF GOD ESSENTIALS · CORTEIZ · REPRESENT · AIMÉ LEON DORE

TAKEAWAY Competitors' content is public in the Meta Ad Library and on Instagram, but studying it is manual today.

WHAT EXISTING KNOWLEDGE SAYS

Twelve sources from marketing, psychology and design research.

1984

CIALDINI, INFLUENCE

Scarcity raises perceived value.

So: Drop content works, but loses power if overused.

1989

DAVIS, TAM

People adopt tools that are useful and easy.

So: Any new way of working must save the team time.

2010

KAPLAN & HAENLEIN

Brands must take part in social media, not broadcast.

So: Participation beats announcements.

2012

BERGER & MILKMAN

High-arousal emotions drive sharing.

So: Emotion matters as much as format.

2012

DE VRIES ET AL.

Vivid and interactive posts get different responses.

So: Format and interactivity change results.

2012

KIM & KO

Entertainment and interaction build luxury brand equity.

So: Premium brands need more than conversion content.

2015

ASHLEY & TUTEN

Brands use functional, emotional and experiential strategies.

So: Ads can be grouped by creative angle.

2016

GODEY ET AL.

Social builds awareness and image, then loyalty.

So: Measure recall, not only sales.

2016

LEMON & VERHOEF

Experience spans the whole customer journey.

So: Content serves discover, desire, buy and share.

2019

AMERSHI ET AL.

Guidelines for human-AI interaction: explain, allow correction.

So: Any automated help must explain itself.

2023–25

META, CREATIVE IS TARGETING

Diverse creative improves cost and reach.

So: Ad variety is a planning problem.

GAP

NOT YET STUDIED

How a small, drop-led Indian streetwear team decides what to make, day to day.

TAKEAWAY Research explains what makes content work in general. It doesn't tell BLUORNG's team what to make next.

HOW TEAMS DECIDE TODAY

Tools and practices the team, or brands like it, use now.

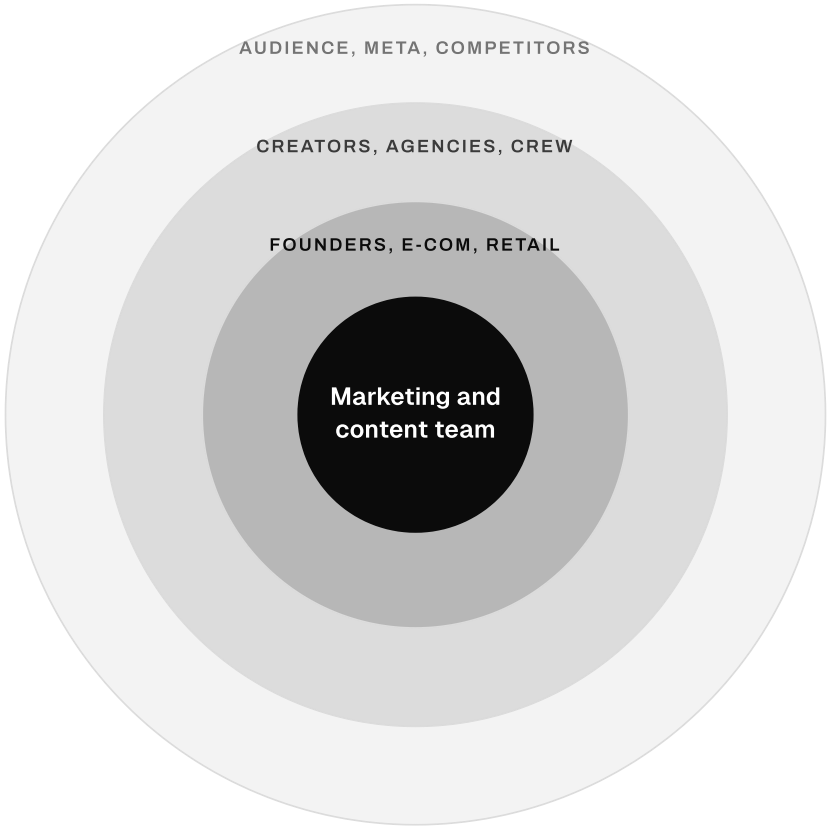

PRACTICE	ORGANIC	PAID	SAYS WHAT TO MAKE	LIMITATION
Instagram Insights	●	○	○	Numbers without meaning
Meta Ads Manager	○	●	○	Shows cost, not why
Meta Ad Library	○	●	○	Competitor ads, studied by hand
Scheduling tools	●	◐	◐	Plans posts, not ideas
Creative analytics tools	○	●	◐	Paid only, costly, generic
Agencies	◐	●	◐	Expensive, slow, less brand feel
Generic AI chat	●	●	◐	No brand data or memory
WhatsApp, Sheets, instinct	◐	◐	○	Where decisions happen now

● YES ◐ PARTLY ○ NO

TAKEAWAY Each tool covers one piece. None connects results, competitors and planning for a brand like BLUORNG.

WHO IS INVOLVED

Mapped from closest to the content decision to furthest away.

CORE: DECIDE AND MAKE CONTENT

Marketing lead, performance marketer (Meta ads), social media manager, content strategist, photographer, video editor, graphic designer.

INTERNAL: APPROVE OR ARE AFFECTED

Co-founders, e-commerce manager, retail store managers, design and product team.

EXTERNAL PARTNERS

Creators and models, agencies and freelancers, production crew, collab brands.

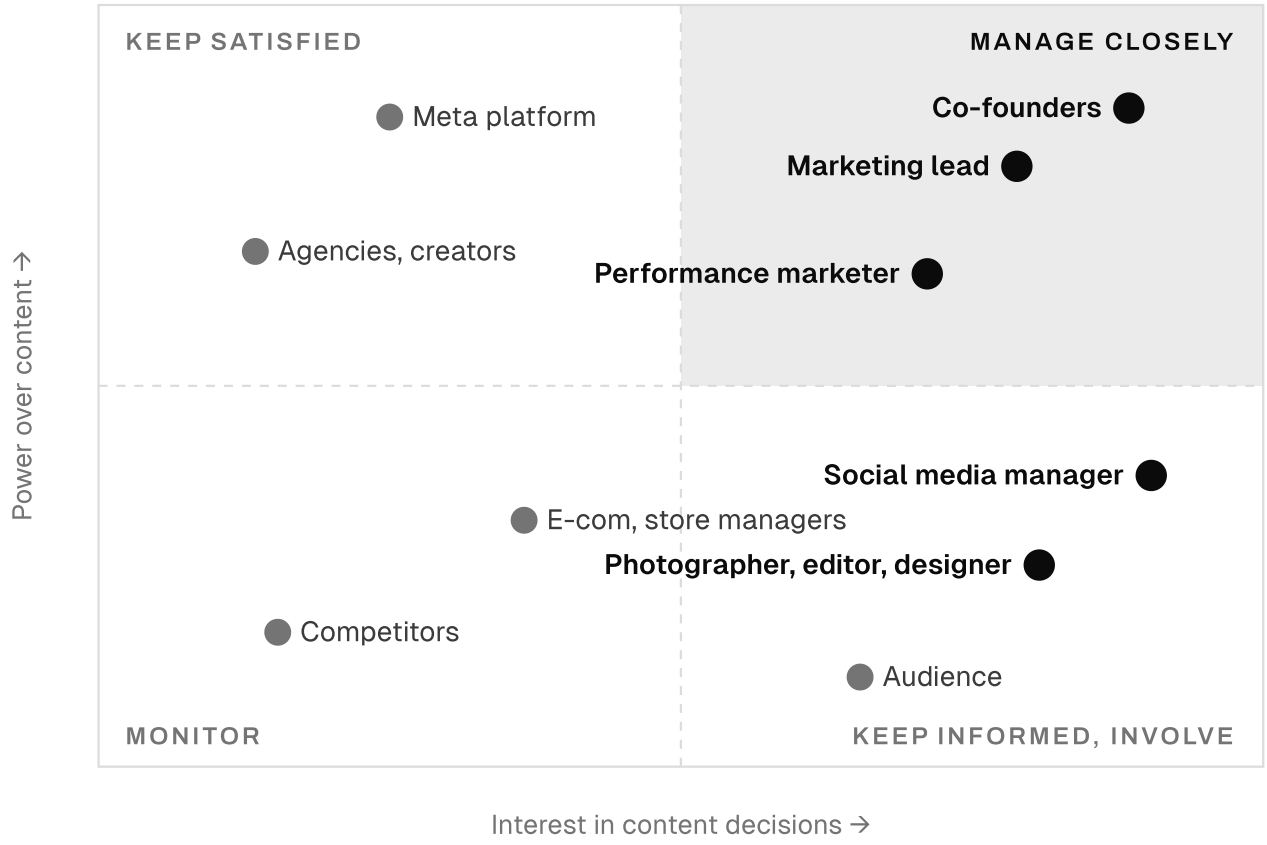

WIDER ECOSYSTEM

The audience, Instagram and Meta (algorithm, ad policies, Ad Library), competitor brands.

TAKEAWAY The marketing and content team sits at the centre: they decide, make and pay for content.

POWER AND INTEREST

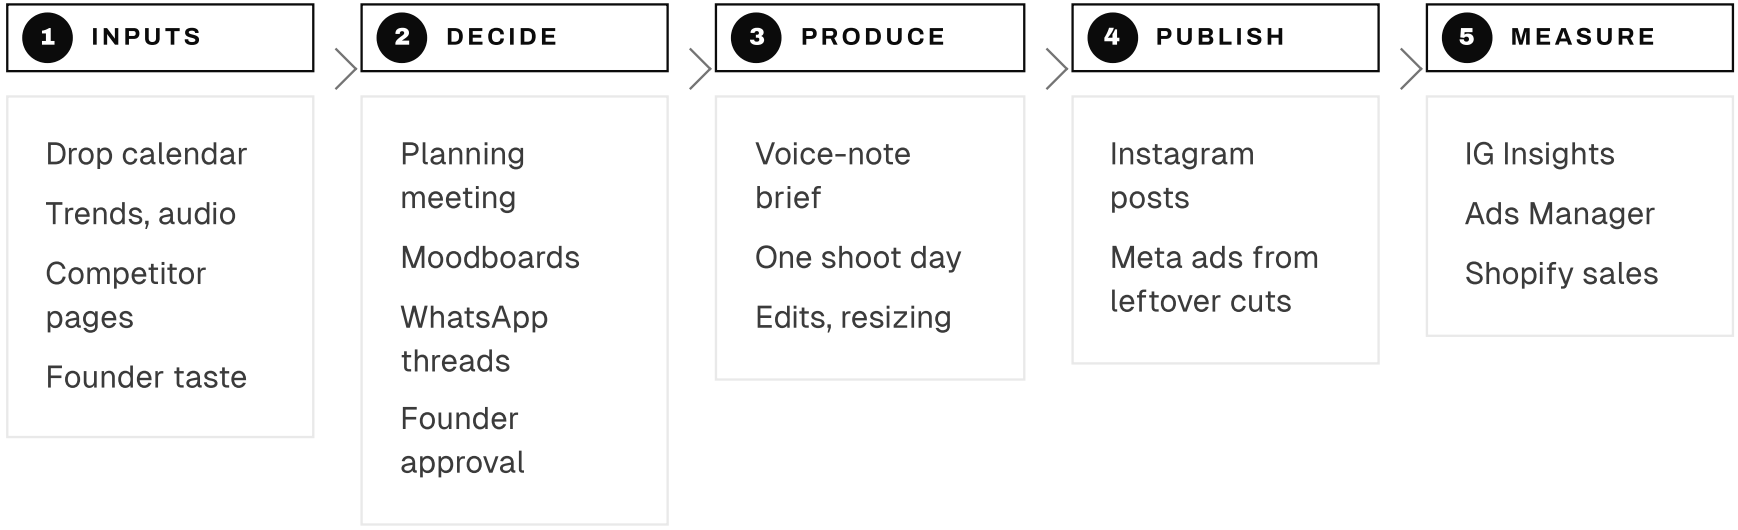

Who can shape the outcome, and who cares most about it.

TAKEAWAY Founders and the marketing lead approve. The content makers feel the problem daily. Both must be part of the research.

HOW CONTENT MOVES TODAY

Mapped from observation inside the team: inputs, decisions, production, publishing and measurement.

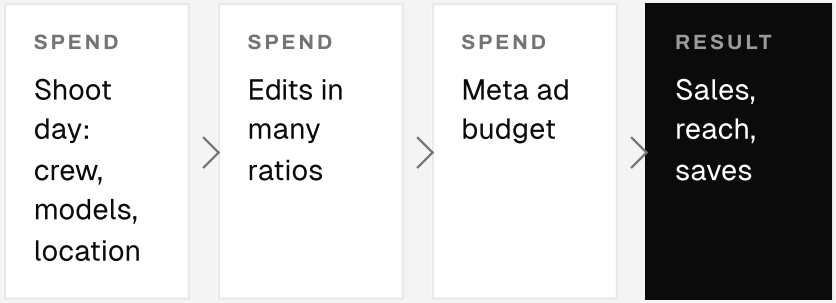

The loop is broken. Results stay in Insights and Ads Manager. They rarely reach the next planning meeting, and competitor learning is never saved.

TAKEAWAY The system has no feedback loop. What is learned after a drop does not shape the next one.

WHERE THE MONEY AND EFFORT GO

Following the money shows the problem is bigger than reporting.

EFFORT AND SPEND IN ONE DROP CYCLE

MOST SPEND HAPPENS BEFORE ANYONE KNOWS WHICH CONTENT WILL WORK

LEAK 1

UNDER-USED SHOOTS

Shoots are planned around the lookbook. Few cuts suit ads.

LEAK 2

HABIT-LED AD SPEND

Budget goes to familiar ad formats, not proven ones.

LEAK 3

LATE RE-WORK

Missing formats and late feedback cause re-edits and re-shoots.

LEAK 4

LOST LEARNING

Winning posts and ads aren't recorded or repeated.

TAKEAWAY The costliest decisions, what to shoot and which ads to run, are made with the least information.

HOW I SPOTTED THE PROBLEM

The problem came from first-hand observation, then had to be tested with research.

MY VANTAGE POINT

WORKING INSIDE THE TEAM

As part of BLUORNG's content process, I sat in planning meetings, shoots and edit reviews, and saw how ad and post decisions get made.

WHAT I KEPT SEEING

- Planning starts from moodboards and instinct, not results.
- Ads are cut from whatever the lookbook shoot produced.
- The marketing team can see an ad is failing, but not why.
- Competitor ads are checked by hand, then forgotten.
- Money spent on making and running ads is hard to justify.

INITIAL PROBLEM

BLUORNG's marketing team spends heavily on making and running Meta ads, but has no reliable way to know which ideas work. A system is needed that tells the team what kind of content to make for Instagram and Meta ads.

TAKEAWAY An observation is not yet a finding. The next steps break the problem down and test it.

PROBLEM TREE

Breaking the core problem into causes and effects.

EFFECTS

- Ad budget spent on formats that don't perform
- Shoot days give too few usable ads
- Repetitive ads and fatigue
- Wins are not repeated
- Team burnout before drops

CORE PROBLEM

BLUORNG DECIDES WHAT CONTENT AND ADS TO MAKE WITHOUT KNOWING WHAT WORKS

ROOT CAUSES

DATA

Results spread across Insights, Ads Manager and Shopify

PLANNING

Ads are not planned before the shoot

SILOS

Organic and paid planned separately

MEMORY

No record of what worked last drop

MARKET

Competitor study is manual

PRESSURE

Drop deadlines push instinct-led choices

TAKEAWAY The effects are costs. The causes are missing information and missing planning.

WHY DOES IT HAPPEN? FIVE WHYS

Asking why, five times, from a real situation in the last drop.

WHY 1 Why did last drop's ads underperform? They all looked alike.

WHY 2 They were all cut from the same lookbook footage.

WHY 3 The shoot was planned only for the lookbook.

WHY 4 Nobody knew which ad angles worked, so none were planned.

ROOT The team has no evidence of what works to plan shoots and ads around.

TAKEAWAY Fixing ads means fixing planning, and fixing planning needs evidence.

WHERE TO FOCUS, AND FOR WHOM

Narrowing the scope so research has a clear target.

PROBLEM AREA

The planning stage of content: deciding what to shoot, post and advertise for each drop. This is where costs are committed and where evidence is missing.

PRIMARY USERS

MARKETING AND CONTENT TEAM

Marketing lead, performance marketer, social media manager, content strategist.

SECONDARY USERS

MAKERS

Photographer, video editor, graphic designer who turn plans into content.

APPROVERS

CO-FOUNDERS

Protect the brand and approve campaigns and spend.

BENEFICIARIES

AUDIENCE

Get content that is more relevant and less repetitive.

TAKEAWAY Next: test this with the people involved. Primary research covers the team and the audience.

PHASE 02

02
RESEARCH

Testing the problem with BLUORNG's audience and team: a survey of 80 people and 10 interviews.

RESEARCH PLAN | USER BASE AND SEGMENTATION | QUESTIONNAIRE | INTERVIEWS | RESEARCH REPORT

RESEARCH PLAN

Two groups, two methods: a survey for the audience, interviews for the team.

OBJECTIVES

- Learn how the team decides what to make, and what data it uses.
- Find where time and money are lost in a drop cycle.
- Learn what content BLUORNG's audience watches, saves, trusts and buys from.
- Understand what would help the team plan better.

METHODS

- Online survey of BLUORNG's audience, 80 responses.
- 10 semi-structured interviews with BLUORNG's team, 20 to 45 minutes.
- Observation during a drop cycle, from inside the team.

RESEARCH QUESTION	SURVEY	INTERVIEWS	OBSERVATION
How does the team decide what to make?		●	●
How do they know what worked?		●	●
Where are time and money lost?		●	●
What content does the audience value and trust?	●
What makes ads work or feel cheap?	●	●

TAKEAWAY Every research question is covered by at least one method.

WHO WE RESEARCHED

The team who make content, and the audience who receive it.

TEAM SEGMENTS (INTERVIEWS)

Q9 Which content has made you want to buy? — PICK UP TO 3

Same nine content types as Q7

Q10 Your favourite format from fashion brands — PICK ONE

Reels | Carousels | Single photos | Stories

TAKEAWAY Section A checks the sample knows the brand. Section B finds which content the audience watches, saves and buys from.

AUDIENCE SURVEY, PART 2

Questions about ads, trust and what people want more of. Open answers were coded into the groups shown.

C. ADS AND TRUST

Q11 How often do you notice streetwear ads on Instagram? — PICK ONE

- Many times a day
- Daily
- A few times a week
- Rarely

Q12 What makes you stop scrolling on an ad? — PICK UP TO 2

- A real person or creator wearing it
- Close-up of fabric and details
- Drop or limited countdown
- Store or queue hype
- Studio model shot
- Price or offer

Q13 "Most streetwear ads on Instagram look the same." (1 = disagree, 5 = agree) — SCALE 1 TO 5

1 2 3 4 5

Q14 What makes you trust a premium brand online? — PICK UP TO 3

- Close-up quality shots
- Real people wearing it
- Reviews and comments
- Behind the scenes
- Store presence
- Creator collabs
- Founder story
- Consistent aesthetic

C. ADS AND TRUST, CONTINUED

Q15 Have you bought something after seeing an Instagram ad? — PICK ONE

- Yes, several times
- Yes, once
- No

Q16 What makes a brand ad feel cheap? — OPEN, CODED

- Same ad shown again and again
- Too polished, feels fake
- Discount-heavy
- Low-quality or AI look
- Too much text

D. YOUR VOICE

Q17 One thing you'd like BLUORNG to post more of — OPEN, CODED

- Styling ideas
- Behind the scenes, making
- Fabric and quality details
- Drop and restock info
- Community fits
- Store events

INTERVIEW PLAN

10 semi-structured interviews, 20 to 45 minutes each, recorded with consent.

INTERVIEW GUIDE

01 Walk me through your role during a typical drop.
02 How does the team decide what content or ad to make?
03 How do you know whether a post or an ad worked?
04 Tell me about one ad that did well and one that didn't. Why?
05 How is a shoot day planned, and what usually gets missed?
06 How do organic posts and Meta ads connect today?
07 Where does the most time or money get wasted?
08 How do you make sure content stays on-brand?
09 Which tools or data do you use, and what's missing?
10 If one thing could change tomorrow, what would it be?

INTERVIEWS 1 AND 2

Key answers, numbered by interview question.

P1 — CO-FOUNDER, BRAND HEAD

35 min

"We spend serious money on every drop campaign, and I still can't tell you which piece of content earned it back."

Q2	Mostly instinct and the mood of the collection. I approve what feels like BLUORNG.
Q3	Sell-through tells me if a drop worked. It doesn't tell me which content did the work.
Q8	I reject anything that looks mass-market or discount-led, even if it might convert.
Q10	I want to see why the team is proposing something, not just the idea.

NO PROOF OF WHAT WORKS · BRAND PROTECTION · APPROVALS BY TASTE

P2 — MARKETING LEAD

45 min

"Half of our ad budget goes to formats we picked out of habit."

Q2	A planning meeting before each drop. We look at moodboards, competitor pages and last month's top Reels.
Q3	Reach and saves for organic, ROAS for ads, but they sit in different places and nobody joins them.
Q7	Ad production. We book a full shoot, then only three or four cuts actually run as ads.
Q10	Know before the shoot which ad types to make, so the shoot day pays for itself.

NO PROOF OF WHAT WORKS · SPEND BY HABIT · SHOOT UNDER-PLANNED

TAKEAWAY Leadership feels the cost but can't trace it to content.

INTERVIEWS 3 AND 4

Key answers, numbered by interview question.

P3 PERFORMANCE MARKETER, META ADS

40 min

"I end up running the same lookbook footage in five crops and calling it testing."

Q3	Ads Manager shows CTR, CPA and frequency. I can see an ad is dying, not why.
Q4	A creator try-on beat our studio lookbook on cost per sale. We had only one creator clip, so we couldn't scale it.
Q6	I find out about a great organic Reel days later, by accident.
Q9	I check the Meta Ad Library for competitors by hand. It takes hours and I never save what I learn.

TOO FEW AD VARIATIONS · ORGANIC AND PAID APART · MANUAL COMPETITOR STUDY

P4 SOCIAL MEDIA MANAGER

40 min

"I don't need more numbers. I need to know what the numbers mean for next week's posts."

Q2	Trends, audio, what competitors posted, and what the founders liked last week.
Q3	I screenshot Insights into a deck every month. It's a report, not a plan.
Q7	Monday mornings. I start the content plan from a blank page every week.
Q10	Something that tells me which of our post types to repeat and which to drop.

NO PROOF OF WHAT WORKS · IDEA FATIGUE · MANUAL REPORTING

TAKEAWAY Ads are measured, but competitor and organic learning never reaches them.

INTERVIEWS 5 AND 6

Key answers, numbered by interview question.

P5 — CONTENT STRATEGIST, CREATIVE LEAD

35 min

"Every drop we reinvent the wheel because nothing from the last one is written down."

Q2	I write concepts for each drop, mostly from references and gut feel.
Q5	We plan the hero lookbook in detail. Ad versions and extra angles are an afterthought.
Q8	We keep a moodboard, but rules about what we never do live in people's heads.
Q10	A shared memory of what worked in past drops.

SHOOT UNDER-PLANNED · NO SHARED MEMORY · BRAND RULES UNWRITTEN

P6 — PHOTOGRAPHER

30 min

"If I knew the ad angles before the shoot, I could get three times the usable content from the same day."

Q5	I get a shot list the night before, sometimes as a voice note.
Q6	Vertical versions for ads are usually requested after we wrap.
Q7	Re-shoots for one missing angle. A whole half-day for two images.
Q10	Know every format and ad angle before I set up the first light.

SHOOT UNDER-PLANNED · BRIEFS OVER CHAT · RE-SHOOTS

TAKEAWAY Shoots are planned for the lookbook, and ad formats come too late.

INTERVIEWS 7 AND 8

Key answers, numbered by interview question.

P7 VIDEO EDITOR

30 min

"I make the same edit in four ratios at the end because nobody asked for them at the start."

Q5	Briefs come as a voice note and a Pinterest link.
Q7	Re-edits when feedback arrives late at night on WhatsApp.
Q9	Drive folders and WhatsApp. No single place for briefs or versions.

BRIEFS OVER CHAT · LATE FEEDBACK · ORGANIC AND PAID APART

P8 GRAPHIC DESIGNER

25 min

"Half my revisions happen because nobody wrote down what the post was supposed to do."

Q2	I get asked for story and post graphics once the shoot is done.
Q8	Brand rules are a feeling. I learn them when something gets rejected.
Q7	Rounds of changes because the goal of a post wasn't clear.
Q10	A clear goal and reference for each piece before I start.

BRAND RULES UNWRITTEN · LATE FEEDBACK · UNCLEAR GOALS

P9 E-COMMERCE MANAGER

25 min

"The website knows what people buy. The content team never sees it."

Q3	I see which products sell after a post, but that data never reaches the content team.
Q6	Ads point to the site; organic posts mostly don't.
Q7	Paid traffic that bounces because the ad promised a different product feel.
Q10	Connect what sells on the site with what we post.

SIGNALS NOT SHARED | ORGANIC AND PAID APART

P10 RETAIL STORE MANAGER, MUMBAI

20 min

"People come in holding their phone with our Reel open. That feedback never goes back to the team."

Q3	Customers walk in showing me a Reel on their phone. That's how I know it worked.
Q6	Store events get posted, but rarely promoted as ads.
Q8	In-store, people trust what they can touch. Online they need close-ups to feel it.
Q10	Tell the content team what customers ask about in store.

SIGNALS NOT SHARED | PROOF OF QUALITY

KEY INSIGHTS

Combining the survey and the interviews into seven insights.

INSIGHT 1

DATA WITHOUT DIRECTION

The team sees numbers in three tools but can't tell which content earned results.

9 of 10 interviews

INSIGHT 2

MONEY FOLLOWS HABIT

Ad budget goes to familiar formats like studio lookbooks, which the audience rarely stops for.

10% stop for studio shots

INSIGHT 3

ONE SHOOT, FEW ADS

Shoots are planned for the lookbook, so ad variety is limited before editing starts.

7 of 10 interviews

INSIGHT 4

REAL AND DETAILED WINS

The audience stops for real people and close-ups and trusts quality shots.

54% and 45%

INSIGHT 5

SAMENESS HURTS

Most people feel streetwear ads look alike, and repeated ads feel cheap.

60% agree

INSIGHT 6

LEARNING GETS LOST

Competitor ads, store feedback and past wins are never collected in one place.

WHO FEELS THIS MOST

Insights become personas, pain points and a journey map.

TAKEAWAY The problem is confirmed: BLUORNG commits shoot and ad money before it knows what works.

SAMPLE DATA SOURCE: SAMPLE SURVEY AND INTERVIEWS

PAIN POINTS AND GAIN POINTS

What hurts today, and what the team wishes for.

PAIN POINTS

- No single view of which posts and ads work, and why
- Ad spend and formats chosen by habit
- Shoot days planned for the lookbook, too few ad cuts
- Competitor ads studied by hand, then forgotten
- Organic winners not reused as ads
- Briefs and feedback scattered across WhatsApp
- Idea fatigue every Monday and before every drop

GAIN POINTS, WHAT THEY HOPE FOR

- Know which ad types and post types to make next
- Plan ad angles before the shoot, get more from each shoot day
- Learn from BLUORNG's past content and premium competitors
- Spend ad budget with confidence
- Suggestions that keep the brand premium
- Reasons behind every suggestion, for quick approval
- One shared memory of what worked

TAKEAWAY The gains point to one need: guidance on what to make and how to make it, before money is spent.

PHASE 03

03
DEFINE

Turning research into people, a journey, a problem statement and design goals.

PERSONAS | EMPATHY MAPS | USER JOURNEY MAP | PROBLEM STATEMENT | DESIGN GOALS

PERSONA 1 AND 2

Built from the interviews with the deciders and optimisers.

NK

NAINA KAPOOR, 31

Marketing Lead

"Half of our ad budget goes to formats we picked out of habit."

Owns drop campaigns and the ad budget. Reports to the founders.

GOALS

- Make every drop sell through
- Justify ad spend
- Keep the brand premium

PAIN POINTS

- Can't trace results to content
- Shoot gives too few ad cuts
- Approvals by taste

BEHAVIOURS

- Runs planning meetings
- Checks ROAS daily during drops

ADS MANAGER | IG INSIGHTS | SHEETS

AV

ADITYA VERMA, 28

Performance Marketer, Meta Ads

"I can see an ad is dying, not why."

Runs and optimises every Meta campaign for drops and retargeting.

GOALS

- Lower cost per sale
- Test more creative angles
- Spot fatigue early

PAIN POINTS

- Same footage in five crops
- Competitor research by hand
- Learns of organic winners late

BEHAVIOURS

- Lives in Ads Manager
- Browses the Ad Library weekly

ADS MANAGER | AD LIBRARY | SHOPIFY

TAKEAWAY Both carry the cost of wrong content decisions: one owns the budget, one spends it.

PERSONA 3 AND 4

Built from the interviews with the optimisers and makers.

RS

RIYA SHARMA, 26

Social Media Manager

"I don't need more numbers. I need to know what they mean for next week."

Plans and posts BLUORNG's Instagram every week.

GOALS

- A fresh, on-brand feed
- Grow saves and reach
- Plan ahead of drops

PAIN POINTS

- Blank page every Monday
- Manual monthly reports
- Trends feel off-brand

BEHAVIOURS

- Screenshots competitors
- Keeps ideas in Notes

KM

KARAN MALHOTRA, 27

Photographer

"If I knew the ad angles before the shoot, I could get three times the content."

Shoots lookbooks, campaigns and product content for each drop.

GOALS

- Get everything in one day
- Avoid re-shoots
- Do creative work

PAIN POINTS

- Shot list arrives late
- Ad formats asked after wrap
- Briefs as voice notes

BEHAVIOURS

- Shoots extra just in case
- Plans from moodboards

TAKEAWAY Riya needs direction for organic. Karan needs a plan before the shoot.

EMPATHY MAPS

What each persona says, thinks, does and feels during a drop.

NK NAINA

SAYS	THINKS
"Which post sold this drop?"	Am I wasting budget?
DOES	FEELS
Approves plans, checks ROAS	Pressure to justify spend

AV ADITYA

SAYS	THINKS
"Frequency is 4.2, it's burning."	The organic team had a great Reel. Why didn't I know?
DOES	FEELS
Duplicates ad sets, studies Ad Library	Stuck waiting on creative

RS RIYA

SAYS	THINKS
"What should we post this week?"	Am I just guessing?
DOES	FEELS
Scrolls competitors, builds decks	Creative burnout

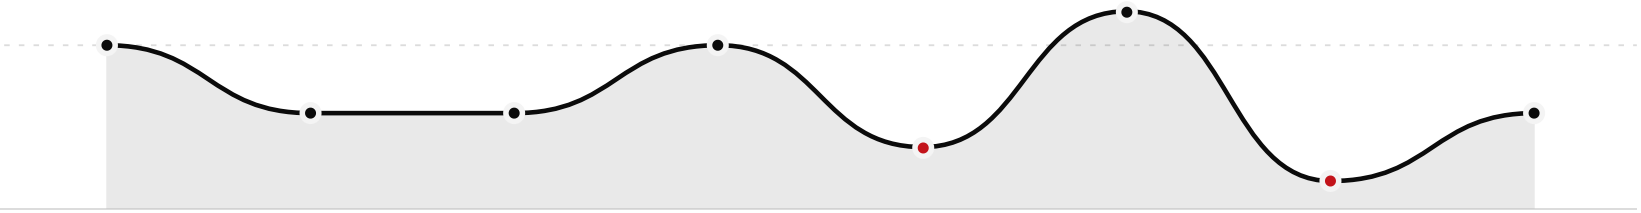

KM KARAN

SAYS	THINKS
"Do you need a vertical version?"	This would make a great ad, nobody asked.
DOES	FEELS
Shoots extra coverage	Frustrated by re-shoots

TAKEAWAY Across all four: they act without evidence and feel the cost later.

A DROP, THROUGH NAINA'S AND ADITYA'S EYES

The current experience of planning, making and running content for one drop.

	01 DROP BRIEF	02 IDEATE	03 PLAN SHOOT	04 SHOOT DAY	05 EDIT AND APPROVE	06 LAUNCH POSTS AND ADS	07 MONITOR	08 NEXT DROP
EMOTION
DOING	Gets products and drop date	Moodboards, competitor scrolling	Shot list for the lookbook	One shoot, models, crew	Edits, ratios, founder review	Posts and 3 to 4 ads go live	Watches ROAS, sees fatigue	Starts again from scratch
THINKING	"What worked last time?"	"Is this on-brand?"	"Ads can come from this"	"Shoot extra just in case"	"Can we get a vertical?"	"Hope this one works"	"Why is it dying?"	"What did we learn?"
PAIN	No past results at hand	Instinct and trends	Ad angles not planned	Too few ad cuts	Re-edits, late feedback	Spend on habit formats	No reason why	Nothing recorded
OPPORTUNITY	— Show what worked	— Suggest proven ideas	— Plan ad angles early	— Shot list for ads too	— Formats known up front	— Back proven angles	— Explain results	— Save the learning

TAKEAWAY The lowest points are where money is committed: editing, running ads and monitoring without answers.

PROBLEM STATEMENT

Everything learned so far, in one statement.

PROBLEM STATEMENT

BLUORNG's marketing and content team lacks a structured way to pre-plan ads and organic content, and has no reliable feedback on which content works. As a result, shoot days produce fewer usable ads than they could, Meta ad spend follows habit instead of evidence, and Instagram posting relies on instinct rather than on what has worked for BLUORNG and comparable premium streetwear brands.

HOW MIGHT WE...

HMW 1

Show the team which of its ads and posts work, and why?

HMW 2

Learn from what works for comparable premium streetwear brands?

HMW 3

Plan ad angles before the shoot, so one shoot day gives the most ads?

HMW 4

Suggest what to post on Instagram, based on BLUORNG's own history?

HMW 5

Help the team spend Meta budget with confidence?

HMW 6

Keep every suggestion premium and on-brand?

TAKEAWAY Six questions to ideate on. None of them assumes a solution yet.

DESIGN GOALS

What any solution must achieve, and how we'll measure it.

OVERALL GOAL

Give BLUORNG a system that suggests what to make and how to make it, for Instagram and Meta ads.

G1

SHOW WHAT WORKS

Reveal which BLUORNG posts and ads perform, by type, with reasons.

MEASURE: NAME TOP AD TYPE IN UNDER 1 MIN

G2

LEARN FROM THE MARKET

Bring in what works for premium streetwear competitors.

MEASURE: COMPETITOR PATTERNS WEEKLY

G3

SUGGEST WHAT TO MAKE

Recommend ad ideas and organic posts for the next drop.

MEASURE: IDEAS READY BEFORE PLANNING

G4

PLAN THE SHOOT

Turn ideas into a shoot plan that serves posts and ads.

MEASURE: AD CUTS PER SHOOT FROM ~4 TO 10+

G5

SPEND WITH CONFIDENCE

Back proven angles with ad budget.

MEASURE: LOWER COST PER SALE

G6

PROTECT THE BRAND

Keep every suggestion premium and explain it.

MEASURE: FOUNDERS APPROVE MOST IDEAS

G7

CLOSE THE LOOP

Record what each drop teaches for the next one.

MEASURE: EVERY DROP ADDS LEARNING

TAKEAWAY With goals set, ideation can begin. Every idea will be checked against these seven goals.
